FULL LIST MATRICULATION RESULTS, PAGES 6, 11

B.C.'s Top Scholar Stirs Family Pride

Seventeen-year-old Gary Corbett, an Oak Bay High graduate, was given royal treatment by his happy family when the education department today listed him as top scholar among some 5,800 students who wrote Grade 12 examinations in June. Gary came out

Victoria's Gary Corbett Tops B.C. in Matric Examinations

Oak Bay High graduate Gary Edward Corbett, who likes mathematics so much he sometimes works out difficult problems "just for the fun of it," has been named British Columbia's top-ranking student in the university entrance examinations held in June.

Results were announced today by the department of education.

Gary, a tall, lean 17-year-old, wins the Governor General's Silver Medal and two scholarships worth a total of $400. He receives a Chris Spencer Foundation award of $225 and a general proficiency scholarship of $175.

Son of Mr. and Mrs. W. O. (Olie) Corbett, 1180 Oliver Street, he was born in Victoria and received his elementary schooling at Monterey School. His father is manager of Island Engravers Ltd.

His average mark in the university entrance examination was 94.4 per cent.

Next highest student in the province was Trudeau Mounce, a student at the up-island mining centre of Cumberland, who averaged 93.5. She receives a bronze medal from the Governor General and two scholarships, also worth $400.

EXCELLENT RECORD

In the past five years Greater Victoria high schools have missed out only once in winning the Governor-General's silver medal for the student making the highest marks in provincial junior matriculation examinations.

Here is the list, year by year.

1953—Gary E. Corbett, Oak Bay High.
1952—Sonia C. Stuart, Victoria High.
1951—Ronald A. Sterne, Britannia High, Vancouver.
Second was Lyle Robertson, Victoria High, 0.6 per cent behind the winner.
1950—Beverly Joan Fulton, Victoria High.
1949—Peter Smith, Victoria High.

Spanish Boy Accused Of $1.6 Million Theft

LONDON (UP)—British police arrested an 18-year-old Spanish youth today and accused him of engineering single-handedly one of the biggest thefts on record—$1,600,000 of antique sacred gems stolen from the 550-year-old Cathedral of Seville.

The youth, Emilio Garcia Gomez, was arrested on a warrant granted at the request of the Spanish embassy here and was remanded in custody until July 31.

The jewels were stolen from the ancient Cathedral of Seville—second largest church in the world—on the night of March 15. Spanish authorities said the thief apparently hid himself among some of the 32 immense clustered columns which support the vaulted roof. Then, with the last worshipper finished his prayers and departed, the thief smashed a glass panel protecting the gems and fled with them. Scotland Yard and French police co-operated with Spanish authorities in the long and involved process of tracing the suspect. French police recovered a number of jewels, believed a part of the loot from the Seville Cathedral, from lodgings Gomez had occupied on Paris' Boulevard Port Royal and from a cleaning shop.

Brig. Bogert Receives Medal From Elizabeth

LONDON (CP)—The Queen today pinned a medal on Canada's Brig. M. Patrick Bogert at a Buckingham Palace investiture, making him a commander of the Order of the British Empire.

The award was in recognition of Bogert's service in Korea.

Nail-Studded Baseball Bats Used By Miners

40 Men Injured in Ontario Outbreak

TIMMINS, Ont. (BUP)—One hundred striking miners smashed their way into the Broulan Reef gold mine with clubs and lead pipes today and kidnapped 10 strikebreakers.

The 10 men were later tossed bleeding and bruised into the road outside. Hundreds of other strikers massed outside kept 30 provincial police from going in to stop the pitched battle.

Union officials said in an official statement later it was a "regrettable incident."

One strikebreaker said shift boss Walter McQuestion was "beaten to a pulp" and taken to South Porcupine Hospital. Forty men were cut and bruised in the battle.

The fight was apparently the answer of striking steelworkers union to the mine company's attempt to resume production after being idled two weeks by a strike. Twenty-five men were taken through the picket lines Thursday.

The battle broke out this morning as the 25 men dressed in miners' clothes were being briefed in the change house before going underground.

The strikebreakers saw the pickets charging toward their building, armed with baseball bats with nails protruding from them, picks and heavy steel pipes.

"We barricaded the doors," said Ron Dewar, a superintendent, "but they didn't hold."

The strikers broke down the door with a baseball bat. Waino Yrman said he and the other kidnapped workers were thrown down a flight of steps, punched and kicked and hauled into the cars.

The union threatened to resume mass picketing today around the eight properties which have been shut down for almost two weeks.

Arrest Imminent In Gaspé Murders

CHURCHILL BACK HOME; MAY RESUME DUTIES

WESTERHAM, Eng. (CP)—Prime Minister Churchill, apparently planning to resume some of the duties of his office, left his country home early today for Chequers, his official residence, 60 miles away. It was the first time he had left Chartwell since he was ordered by his physicians to take a rest nearly a month ago.

The prime minister, wearing a light grey suit, walked a few yards from his home to an automobile with a gait which would almost be described as brisk.

The 78-year-old prime minister stepped into his car without any apparent effort, and then he raised his finger to call his French poodle, which sprang in beside him.

Churchill had a broad smile for a crowd of about 75 persons clustered about. He was carrying his familiar black cigar.

Churchill's decision to move was interpreted as meaning he plans to resume taking up some of the duties of his office.

War May End On Sunday

Only Last-Minute Shift by Reds Or Rhee Can Delay Armistice

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP)—Gen. Mark Clark has received final authority as United Nations commander in Korea to sign a truce agreement with the Communists ending the war.

The authorization was reported to have been given by President Eisenhower recently in order to put Clark in position to act quickly once technical details were cleared away.

Officials expressed confidence today that—barring some last-minute shift by the Reds or some unexpected disruptive move by President Syngman Rhee of South Korea—the truce will be signed sometime this week-end, possibly Sunday night (PDT), which would be Monday in Korea.

At Seoul, a source close to the armistice talks said the signing probably will come Sunday, Korean time.

It was understood here the day and hour of the signing would be set 24 hours in advance and then would be immediately announced so that the world would have 24 hours' notice of the formal conclusion of the agreement that has been two years in negotiation.

The principal threat to the signing arrangements as foreseen here appears to lie in Rhee's continuing bitter opposition.

There were other contradictory reports that Kim himself had been purged, but there was no way of checking.

Southern Korean intelligence sources, who say Kim still is in charge, say the reported swing toward closer ties with Red China could be the start of a split between China's boss, Mao Tse-tung, and Moscow.

They call it a fight between Communists trained in Moscow and Reds trained in Moscow.

Yenan was the headquarters of Red China's Mao before he took over all China.

Manitoba Secures More Polio Serum

WINNIPEG (CP)—Dr. M. R. Elliott, Manitoba's deputy health minister, today said additional supplies of gamma globulin, poliomyelitis preventive serum, will be available for a limited time in the province to extend the use to household contacts of paralysis patients up to the age of 30 and to pregnant women of any age.

He made the announcement as Manitoba's polio cases mounted to 248, with 19 new cases reported.

Quebec Solicitor-General Says Bear Hunters Slain

By MARC E. THIVIERGE

QUEBEC CITY (BUP)—Provincial Solicitor General Antoine Rivard said today three American hunters found mutilated in the Gaspé forests were murdered.

An informant told a reporter that an arrest was expected momentarily.

Rivard told a press conference that the sweat-shirt of one of the hunters had "traces of a bullet entering at the heart level and coming out at the back," Rivard said.

Medico-legal expert Dr. Jean-Marie Roussel of Montreal was immediately ordered to Gaspé, Que., to conduct an autopsy, Rivard said, "and he should reach there by mid-day."

Rivard did not comment on possible motive for the triple murder, but police theorized it was robbery because only a small amount of the $700 carried by the hunters had been found.

The remains of two of the hunters were found spread along the bank of a creek by a provincial police search party Thursday. Most of the skeleton of the third was found last week. The men were Eugene Lindsey, 47; his son Robert, 17, and 20-year-old Fred Clair.

Rivard said police were developing photographs from the camera of one of the hunters and "these photos helped in the identification of the remains of the bodies."

Four pictures were developed from the camera which was found at the bottom of a small creek near the spot where the remains of the elder Lindsey were found.

One of them showed three Gaspé region men who helped the hunters pull their small truck from the spot where it had stalled, Rivard said.

Rivard said a rifle with six bullets in the magazine was found near the remains of the body of the elder Lindsey. It had not been fired, he said.

"But on the shoulder-strap of the rifle we found a bullet hole. The bullet entered diagonally into the shoulder-strap and had gone out the same way. Right then we were sure the mystery was—in reality—cold-blooded murder."

Rivard refused to divulge what other clues the police had gathered in their intensive search of the bear-infested area because "it might handicap the workings of justice."

The remains of the elder Lindsey were found five-and-a-half miles from the hunters' abandoned truck, he said, and the bodies of the two youths were found about the same distance farther along the trail.

Search Ends in Gruesomeness

A search for the three hunters, last reported seen June 12 when they moved into Gaspé's wild and granite cliffs, ended Thursday in an aura of gruesomeness when the police party stumbled across the scattered skeletons of Richard Lindsey and Fred Clair.

At the end of a bear trail along the St. Jean River, 65 miles back into the bush from Gaspé, searchers were stopped short by the discovery of rib bones, parts of spinal columns, two hip bones, an upper palate section and leg and arm bones. It was on this same trail, four miles closer to Gaspé, that the police party found the emaciated remains of Eugene Lindsey, who brought his son and companion to this little-known part of the country from Hollidaysburg, Pa., to stalk the 400-pound black bears that walk its forests.

All three hunters were decapitated but only one skull was found. Bears were believed to have hauled other two heads deeper into the almost impenetrable woods.

IN A GARDEN THAT NEVER WAS

Two Women Walk In an 'Imagination'

LONDON (BUP)—On a mild summer day half a century ago two British women educators took a stroll in Versailles' Trianon Gardens and later startled the world by claiming they had walked through time to the French revolution.

From any other source the claim promptly would have been ridiculed.

But Miss C. A. E. Moberly and Miss E. F. Jourdain were among the most prominent educators in Britain at that mid-August day in 1901, women of unimpeachable reputation and high intelligence.

In letters to each other published as "an adventure," they insisted that by some strange alchemy of time they had been transported back to 1789 in the turbulent days before mobs took Marie Antoinette and her court to the guillotine.

For 50 years experts have argued the case. Most conclude that the educators were so steeped in French history that, aided by the excitement of visiting the scenes, they unconsciously deceived themselves.

But today a prominent British authority on psychic research, G. W. Lambert said new evidence of an equally astonishing nature tended to throw an even more baffling light on the strange story of the two educators.

These would have been built approximately when the women said they saw them. In other words, Misses Moberly and Jourdain appear to have seen a garden which never existed except in the mind of the man who designed it in 1774.

Lambert, who embarked on a new study of the case when he accidentally discovered Antoine Richard's rejected plan in an old book, admits it is impossible at this stage to attempt to explain how two ladies in 1901 could have looked into the imagination of a man who died 117 years earlier.

So one of the most celebrated cases in psychic annals is still a mystery—and more so.

Truck Strike Split Charged

Hamilton Local Draws Blast After 15 Companies Given Go-Ahead Ruling

TORONTO (BUP)—A five-day strike by 1,500 Ontario truck drivers was blasted today as "the most mismanaged in the history of Canadian labor" and a policy split appeared to be developing in the AFL teamsters' ranks.

William Mills, president of the Toronto local, called his executive into an emergency session after condemning the striking local at Hamilton for permitting 15 companies to operate without interference.

"Unless the Hamilton local rescinds its permission we will put a picket on Toronto and other points," he said.

The 15 transport companies were using drivers put on the "fair list" by the Hamilton local, one of two branches organizing the western Ontario strike.

"ENDANGER UNITY"
"This action on the part of the Hamilton local is defeating the true principles of trade unionism," Mills said. "They are endangering strike unity. We are not going to honor these phony commitments."

"Unless the Hamilton local can show us signed commitments we will not respect their picket lines from here in."

The Toronto local is not on strike.

The strikers meanwhile cut

$100,000 Fire Razes Plant On Mainland

NORTH VANCOUVER (BUP)—A three-alarm blaze ripped through the Canada Creosoting plant here late Thursday, the third major fire in southwestern British Columbia in slightly more than 24 hours.

The blaze came even as investigators were poking through the ruins of a $125,000 sawmill on Mitchell Island to see if a split in Vancouver's Sikh colony had manifested itself in arson against sawmill owner Naranjan Greywall. On Thursday, fire destroyed the Sooko Lake Logging Co. sawmill 15 miles northwest of Victoria.

The creosoting plant blaze, causing damage estimated at $100,000, broke out about 1:45 p.m.

A choking pall of smoke from chemicals in the waterfront plant forced evacuation of nearby buildings.

Firemen said the mill equipment and 200 feet of deepsea wharf were destroyed. No one was hurt.

At Mitchell Island, two persons, including Fire Chief Charles McCullough of Bridgeport, were injured in the sawmill blaze.

"I am completely wiped out," Greywall said. "This is the last sawmill I'll ever own." Greywall said a $300,000 blaze also raged through the plant's planer mill section July 8, and there was an apparent arson attempt at his home at Mission, B.C., Tuesday.

Hammarhjold Budgets for $555,300 Cut

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (BUP)—Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold today recommended a $41,660,200 budget for the United Nations in 1954, a cut of $555,300 from the 1953 figure.

The UN administrative and budgetary committee, a watchdog group of nine experts picked by the General Assembly, recommended a reduction of another $845,800 from Hammarskjold's budget.

Final decision on the 1954 budget will be taken by the fall assembly.

The United States is the biggest contributor to the UN budget, with an assessment for 1953 of 35.12 per cent of the total. The US assessment for 1954 has been reduced to 33.33 per cent in accord with a decision of the 1952 assembly putting a ceiling of one-third on the contribution of any member. Russia's assessment for 1953 is 12.28 per cent.

Historic Rice Mills Torn Down

Demolition of historic link with Victoria's past was begun this week when workmen of McKinty & Sons Construction Company began tearing down buildings on Douglas Street. Formerly Douglas Street had housed mills owned and operated by pioneer miller James Townley. He started mills on Douglas Street April 1, 1905. Buildings were constructed at turn of century and were part of old Keating estate. Formerly Store Street had housed mills from 1885 to 1898. New buildings to be put up by John Worthington will be used by Angus Marine.

ONLY B.C. HAS CHANCE OF RELIEF

Discord Follows Gas Price Hike

By ED McLEAN
Times Business Editor

Grumbling everywhere has followed the latest increases in gasoline and fuel oil prices.

Studies into the justifiability of the boosts are planned by motorists and public organizations from Victoria to Toronto. But in every instance the complainants say they won't make representations to government unless their investigations warrant such action.

B.C. motorists have hope there'll be early relief from current gas prices, but the rest of Canada has not.

B.C.'s hope is the Trans-Alberta pipeline, now being constructed to bring Alberta crude to new, or remodelled, major refineries on the coast. Imperial's president, John R. White, of Toronto, hinted earlier this year a price-cut might be possible when the pipeline is completed and the new refining capacity in production.

An Imperial Oil spokesman Thursday confirmed this possibility still exists. But he could not elaborate on the certainty or extent of cheaper gas when Alberta crude is refined in B.C. Most of B.C.'s gas now is processed from American crude.

UP HALF-CENT

Imperial and British-American oil companies Tuesday sparked the latest price increases, advancing the wholesale price of gas and light fuel oil by a half-cent in B.C., 14 cents elsewhere. McColl-Fontenac, Shell and Standard have followed suit.

In Victoria regular gas now is 42 cents per gallon, premium 44.5. Previously regular gas was 41.4 cents, premium 43.8.

Furnace oil has advanced to 19.7 cents per gallon, plus one-half cent tax, delivered to the home. It formerly was 19.2 plus tax. Stove oil, previously 22.4 cents, is 22.9.

Today's B.C. prices are a 40 per cent boost since 1948 when regular gas sold here for 30 cents, premium for 32. Part of this increase represents the wartime advance in the provincial tax from 7 to 10 cents per gallon. In the post-war period the special tax was absorbed into the provincial structure, earmarked for paving of roads.

Tuesday's increase followed a 26-cent hike in the per-barrel price of Alberta crude.

PASSED ON

Full effect—14 cents a gallon—was passed on to Prairie and eastern Canada motorists, now using gasoline and fuel oil processed from inter-provincial pipeline crude.

The half-cent boost in B.C. has little, or no, connection with the Alberta crude oil price advance. Oil company spokesmen said it is an adjustment in the increases made only in B.C. last March, when gas prices advanced 1.7 cents per gallon and fuel oil 2.1. Basis for the latest B.C. raise is the current and long-term position of the Canadian dollar in relationship to U.S. funds.

The B.C. boost is part of the pattern of readjustment by the industry to meet problems and situations created by the change-over to processing Canadian, instead of American, crude.

NOT INTERESTED

But motorists and householders are not interested in the technicalities of the oil companies' operations. Their thoughts focus on larger monthly bills for gasoline and furnace or stove oil. They're unhappy. Many are pressing their spokesmen to "do something about it."

This, in turn, may bring to a head heretofore somewhat half-hearted proposals, the oil industry being investigated by the federal government's Restrictive Trade Practices Commission.

De Gasperi Unlikely To Survive Challenge

By ROBERT E. JACKSON
ROME (UP)—Pro-western Premier Alcide De Gasperi's chances of winning next week's crucial confidence vote appeared today to depend solely on the possibility of a rebellion in the ranks of his opponents.

Rejection by the Chamber of Deputies of his new government would plunge Italy into its worst postwar political crisis.

The 72-year-old statesman reluctantly undertook the task of heading his eighth successive government after his Christian Democrats suffered a setback in the general elections.

The Christian Democrats must muster only 265 votes in the 590-seat chamber. The opposition vote—Communist, Socialist, Neo-Fascist and Monarchist—totals 287.

TURNED DOWN

In a desperate attempt to save his cabinet, De Gasperi called on his former allies to back him in the parliamentary test, expected next Monday or Tuesday. But the Liberals, Republicans and Social Democrats turned down the plea and announced their intention to abstain.

De Gasperi's all but last hope of winning the test vanished Thursday when the Monarchists announced they would throw their votes against him. It had been hoped that the faction would abstain from the voting and thereby permit De Gasperi to slip through by a tiny margin.

Government sources blamed the Monarchist decision on the three-power invitation to Yugoslavia to send a delegation to Washington to discuss arms aid. Most Italians looked on the gesture as a "diplomatic defeat" for Italy which is pressing for a return of the disputed Trieste free territory.

Yugoslavia and Italy have been engaged in a bitter dispute for control of the strategic area since the end of the Second World War.

SEAGOING CHIEF

VANCOUVER (CP)—Capt. S. G. Dahlquist of the motorship Canada had some un-nautical headgear on the ship's maiden voyage. He wore a feather headdress after being inducted into the Capilano Indian tribe as Big Chief—That-Stands-Out-In-The-Ocean.

Pickersgill 'Future PM'

CORNER BROOK, Nfld. (CP)—Premier Joseph Smallwood told a political meeting Thursday that he believes J. W. Pickersgill will be the next prime minister of Canada "if, and when, Louis St. Laurent retires."

TRAPPED IN WALL

ATLANTA (AP)—Firemen worked for three hours in the predawn to free a 16-year-old girl wedged between the walls of two buildings. Using sledge hammers, picks and chisels, the firemen dug through a 12-inch wall, brick by brick, to reach Emily Louise Hill.

ADENAUER ASKED PACT WITH REDS

Proposal Discussed
By Big Three

BONN (AP)—West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer has proposed that a united, free Europe offer a non-aggression pact to Soviet Union and its satellites to overcome Russian fears of German rearmament and help guarantee the peace of Europe. Bonn government sources disclosed today.

Adenauer made the proposal in a letter to the U.S. secretary of state John Foster Dulles.

Bonn government sources said the proposal was discussed at the Washington meeting of the Big Three foreign ministers.

BERLIN (CP)—A potato famine fanned the anger of hungry East Germans against Communist misrule today.

Failure of promised shipments from Russia and her satellites has forced the reintroduction of strict rationing, the West Berlin newspaper Nact-Deutsche reported.

This was an embarrassing setback to the puppet East German government's attempt to overcome the passive resistance which continues to spread among its sullen workers.

All East German newspapers today published appeals by the Communists calling on townspeople to help farmers with the harvest.

New reports seeping into West Berlin attested the continuation of resistance among the workers despite a wave of new arrests which has claimed at least 3,000 victims within the last week.

Fire Marshal's Office Probes Three B.C. Fires

VANCOUVER (CP)—An investigation of three recent fires was launched Thursday following a $125,000 sawmill blaze on Mitchell Island earlier in the day.

Besides the fire which destroyed the Fraser View Sawmills Ltd., mill Thursday, investigators of the RCMP and fire marshal's office are looking into evidence of arson in a blaze which threatened the home of the company's president, Naranjan Crewell, at Mission early Tuesday; and a $25,000 fire which damaged the planer mill on the Mitchell Island property, July 8.

Grewell is the village commissioner for Mission, and is said to be the first East Indian to hold a civic office in Canada.

LOVELORN? ... HARDLY Times Thunders; Princess Plays

LONDON (UP)—The Times of London said today there has been so much ill-advised speculation about Princess Margaret's supposed romance that it has reached the point of a "scandal."

But, while the Times asked for an end to the "cruel business of prying into private lives," Margaret herself attended the Broadway musical "Guys and Dolls" and appeared to be anything but a lovelorn girl.

Seated with Queen Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh, Margaret laughed heartily when star Vivian Blaine recited the introductory line, "I'm Adelaide, the well-known fiancée."

The Times—which usually reflects government and conservative opinion in Britain—was concerned about the rumors surrounding the friendship of the 22-year-old Princess and RAF Group Capt. Peter Townsend, a handsome divorced commander.

"Based upon the flimsiest structure of supposition," the Times said the gossip "has been given, unforgivingly, the shape of scandal."

"Only public opinion can impose a check upon the cruel business of prying into private as the Colombo Plan and our own plans for integration of new Canadians into our burgeoning economy.

"Many of these go beyond our own sectional interests but I am sure that you would want your representative to address himself to these problems with a broad tolerance, just as he would the problems nearer at home," he said.

He summed up the Liberal "faith and credo":

LIBERAL CANDIDATE

"Broad tolerance, freedom of expression, a philosophy of life and let live under which each man and woman is free to work out his or her own destiny."

Oak Bay's Reeve, Archie Gibbs, M.L.A. chairman, introducing the Liberal candidate, referred to his long record as a teacher, a soldier in the First World War, a subsequent colonel in militia, as deputy minister of education and as member of a Unesco mission to Burma.

Supporting Dr. Faurey's candidacy, Mrs. H. B. McClung urged women to take an active part in the campaign and cited the Liberal party's contribution to Canada in the form of stable government and social security.

Father of 10 Beaten to Death By Quebec Thugs

NEW RICHMOND, Que. (UP)—A 40-year-old storekeeper, the father of 10 children, was beaten to death early today and robbed of about $30 by two men who fled in a car.

A provincial police spokesman said Edgar Audette, the manager of an agricultural cooperative store, was attacked in the rear of the store building as his 11-year-old son, Francois, watched in horror.

1,000,000 PAYROLL

As an indication of the importance of the dockyards to this district, he mentioned the monthly payroll there as averaging nearly one million dollars, with 2,500 men and women directly connected with the shipbuilding business here.

"I have been pleased to learn," Dr. Faurey said "that the building of minesweepers and escort vessels should guarantee a high level of employment here at least until the end of 1954."

The next government at Ottawa, the candidate said, will face many serious problems: our role in NATO, our contributions in food, material and know-how to such magnificent and far-reaching schemes

Pearkes' Comment Shocks St. Laurent

Compiled from CP Dispatches
HALIFAX, N.S.—Prime Minister Louis St. Laurent, Thursday night, said he was "shocked" to see that Maj.-Gen. G. R. Pearkes, V.C., Progressive Conservative (Nanaimo-The Islands) military critic, was claiming defense costs could be cut by $250,000,000 a year.

The prime minister's speech was recorded earlier for a CBC free-time political broadcast. Later he delivered substantially the same address to an audience of about 1,000 persons in a high school auditorium here.

Mr. St. Laurent said the Liberals would cut defense spending quickly when it could be done with safety. But any party cutting defense expenditures by 10 per cent now would be backing down on Canada's undertakings to the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

At Trois-Rivieres, Que., the same evening, the subject of religion was introduced into the federal election campaign by George Drew, Progressive Conservative leader.

Before the largest audience of his campaign tour to date—3,000 inside the armories, 2,000 outside—Mr. Drew said:

"You have been told that you should not vote for me because I am a Protestant. My friends, I am a Protestant for the same reasons that most of you here are Catholic. . . . you would not respect me much if I did not honor the faith which I learned as a child."

"If it ever comes to the time that elections are decided by the way in which we express our faith in God, then freedom of worship, which is one of the great fundamental freedoms of democracy, would become a meaningless expression," Mr. Drew concluded.

Solve Housing Problem NOW!

Liberal housing and taxation policies have made it impossible for many people to build a home of their own.

A Conservative government will cut the down-payment required by NHA in half, and lengthen the terms of payment.

Under a Conservative government, the down-payment required on a $10,000.00 home will be $1,000.00, instead of the present $2,000.00. The term will be thirty, not twenty years.

The End of Parliament

AS EVERYBODY SHOULD know by this time, Social Credit proposes to repeal the present economic system and, in place of sound money, to substitute a system of inflated credit, managed by the state as it thinks best. It is not so generally understood that Social Credit also proposes to repeal the existing British parliamentary system and to substitute the sort of chaotic parliament attempted, with indifferent success, by many foreign countries.

Outlining this new system, Mr. Solon Low, leader of the Social Credit party, says in his statement to Maclean's Magazine, that "it would mean the end of party politics—and possibly, of general elections."

To begin with, then, Social Credit undertakes to destroy the party system which it regards as an intolerable evil—this though Social Credit itself is becoming a very tightly-organized party of its own.

Now the parliamentary system, as invented in the early days of England and slowly perfected through more than a thousand years, depends on the existence of parties and cannot operate successfully without them. For lacking stable parties, agreeing on certain principles and policies, Parliament becomes a mob and stable government impossible.

The party, in fact, is the supreme invention of the British parliamentary system and wherever that system works successfully it operates through strong national parties. They have their abuses, like every other human institution, but they are essential if parliament is to be anything more than a mob.

If anyone doubts that let him observe the contrast between the government of Britain, where there are only two major parties, and the political chaos of France, where many minor parties successively construct and destroy temporary governments, which can never be strong enough to solve any of the nation's basic problems.

Mr. Low says candidly that the Canadian Parliament must be made merely a gathering of delegates from local districts, each delegate representing merely the supposed interests of that district, and subject to recall by his constituents. "No representative," he says, "would dare to disobey his constituents, for thus organized (by Social Credit methods) the latter could remove him at will." The member of Parliament is to be not only a delegate and nothing more but he can be recalled at any moment by his electors.

This is to deny the fundamental premise of the British parliamentary system. As Burke once explained in a classic definition, it does not regard Parliament as an assembly of quarrelling delegates, each trying to outdo the others for local advantage. It regards Parliament as an organic body concerned with the welfare of the nation as a whole.

The electorate can change the Parliament at a general election. If it can unseat any member at any moment, as Mr. Low proposes, Parliament ceases to be Parliament as we know it, government becomes a series of shifting coalitions, as in France, and the public business becomes a perpetual quarrel which nobody can control.

Mr. Low imagines, however, and his local followers echo his illusion, that somehow everybody will agree on everything, once Social Credit is established. To this end, he says, every local constituency is to be organized in cells. He suggests that all electors should form units of 100, sub-divided into cells of 10, "which can meet in each other's homes."

These cells would "decide all questions of policy," would communicate their decisions to the higher tiers above them and then, in turn, through the central constituency organization, would tell the member of Parliament what he must do at all times. If he refused to do it he would be recalled.

This arrangement apparently supposes that the cells would agree on public policy. What would happen to the minority which did not agree, Mr. Low does not say, but we have seen what happened to it recently in the local constituency of Oak Bay. It was purged.

In any event, since Social Credit "would mean the end of party politics," the minority is not expected to form a party of its own. There is no room for any organized opposition. We are asked to accept a one-party state of Social Credit once the cell system is fully organized. We are asked to accept the end of the party system and the parliamentary system as the British peoples have always understood it. And to this end, no doubt, Social Credit has begun to educate the young in the new monolithic system through its new youth organizations, the very name of which has a familiar and ugly ring.

Even the cell system and the member of Parliament operating as a rubber stamp at the command of the local bosses is not enough to satisfy Mr. Low. He foresees the end of general elections and in this respect he is quite logical. For if there are to be no parties (except, of course, the universal Social Credit party) there will be no need for a government to submit its policies to the electorate at stated intervals, and no organized opposition to oppose it. Parliament will be constantly changed, purged and reorganized by continual local elections whenever the local cells find their member of Parliament disobeying them.

In short, once Social Credit is established in office Mr. Low assumes that no organized party should ever wish or have the chance to unseat it. By a miracle unknown before in human history everybody will be satisfied with the existing policy except, perhaps, in minor details which can be settled by purging members of Parliament who happen to disagree with the wishes of the cells.

That is the system which Mr. Low asks us to embrace (along with fountain pen money) in place of the British system which has built the civilization of the entire English-speaking world.

Setting the Record Straight

THE COLONIST SEEMS DETERMINED, for reasons best known to itself, to perpetuate the fiction that this city has been "represented" in Ottawa by General Peakes since the departure of the Hon. R. W. Mayhew as Ambassador to Japan.

The morning paper strives to create the impression that this riding would have been neglected in Ottawa for the past 10 months but for the ministrations of the good Saanich general—who was, of course, sitting as the member for Nanaimo.

It praises a "multitude of voluntary services" and "many a right good turn," without ever making clear what these noble deeds were.

What are the facts? The facts are that British Columbia now enjoys two Cabinet seats in government and that the ministers work out between them their areas of responsibility within this province. Under this arrangement, Victoria has been the responsibility of the Hon. Ralph Campney, solicitor-general and associate minister of national defense.

This was made quite clear by Mr. Mayhew in an address here last December 10, before he left to take up his new duties in Japan. In introducing Mr. Campney to his audience, Mr. Mayhew explained that the solicitor-general would look after this territory until such time as a new member was elected, and commended him as an able representative of this city.

The question of a general election was in the air at the time, and the advisability of holding a by-election to fill Mr. Mayhew's seat was discussed. In a few weeks it was dismissed as a needless expense, in view of the fact that a general election would be held so soon. It is now common knowledge that strong pressures were exerted on the prime minister for a spring election, but that he refused to do anything which "might in any way detract from the Coronation celebrations."

In his first public appearance in Victoria, Mr. Campney pledged himself to carry on the good work of his predecessor in Ottawa. This city has had good interim representation from Mr. Campney in the nation's capital. In dozens of subsequent visits here he has manifested his concern for, and interest in, our welfare.

His position in the Cabinet has, of course, given this capital a direct pipeline to the top channels of government. For The Colonist to suggest that the Nanaimo representative of a weak minority group has been "the voice of Victoria" at Ottawa is straining credulity to its uttermost limits.

Twist o' the Lips

TO MOST PEOPLE IN THIS part of Canada, Prime Minister St. Laurent's quips on the Quebec-Paris accent are matters of academic interest only.

Discussing a language course given at Trois Pistoles, Que., Mr. St. Laurent told a Chicoutimi audience "go there not to learn Parisian French, but real French, the kind of French you and I speak."

That, to scores of high school students in this section of the nation, sounds like heresy. Yet how heretical is it? Is the Parisian accent to French what the London accent is to English? And if so, what part of London, or what part of Paris?

TRUE FACTS

With reference to your editorial appearing in Saturday's edition entitled "Weird, Wonderful Arithmetic," may I express my personal appreciation and satisfaction at seeing the true facts placed before the reading public.

Your figures, quoted as they are from official sources, are much more in line with the sums we serving members of the Armed Forces receive directly or otherwise than those quoted by a political faction apparently bent on distorting the truth out of all proportion.

The civilian taxpayer, who doubtless favors the already steep price he pays for defense, if he be at all glibly would be likely to blindly seize such vote "bait" if it were not for the efforts of persons in a position to present the unvarnished facts doing so.

"R.C.N."

EXPROPRIATION

Your editorial in Tuesday's issue entitled "Land Taken For Roads" is very much to the point, but, unfortunately, will only be appreciated and understood by the small majority who have experienced the heavy hand and the cold heart of the government in such affairs.

The present governmental procedure for the expropriation of land for roads is, to say the very least, high-handed. The landowner is offered a sum of money for his land based on a valuation fixed by a minor government official whose job is to acquire the land at the lowest possible price. If the property owner considers that the price offered is too low he is faced with the alternative of accepting it or becoming involved in a one-sided litigation in which he is the only party assuming any risk.

Rather than assume this risk most individuals accept the government figure without quibbling so that the government officials are able, with a straight face, to inform possible objectors that they are quite alone in their dissatisfaction. This is a statement which is used all too often to deliberately mislead individuals in order to expedite the business of expropriation.

There is, of course, no argument against the rule that the rights of the individual should be subordinated where the benefit of the majority is concerned, but in the case of a highway which follows one direction for about seven miles then turns off at right angles to its original course and at the other end pours its mass of traffic into an already congested thoroughfare, the question of public benefit becomes problematical.

In the interest of fair treatment for all concerned one would imagine that it would be comparatively simple for a non-government board to be set up to deal with expropriation problems when required. Such a plan would protect the rights of the individual. Under the present expropriation laws he has none.

There is another aspect of this problem which again will only be appreciated by the individuals affected and that is the ordeal of the actual road building which has to be seen and heard to be believed. First, there is the blasting of rock which shakes your home miles from the foundations; then there is the constant din from the heavy equipment, the shovels, the bulldozers, the heavy trucks and other weird and wonderful and equally noisy machines.

In the dry weather there is the dust; in the wet weather there is the mud. And to top it all there is the attitude of the government officials when you dare to voice a complaint. But this sort of thing, unfortunately, is non-compensable!

JAMES BARR.
965 Portage Road.

PREJUDICE

I note that Victoria East Indians are considering legal action against a group of citizens for petitioning the city to ban the sale of property near Fort and Elford to persons of their race.

In pleading the case on behalf of the East Indian community, Kuldeep Singh, secretary of the Victoria Sikh Temple, complains of racial and color discrimination against his people.

At the same time, however, Mr. Kuldeep creates the impression that his people are not guilty of such weaknesses themselves and are distressed by the actions of the petitioners.

While I have no sympathy with the petitioners, I do object to the tendency among some Asians to create the impression that only the white races suffer from color and racial prejudices. I feel that this tendency is becoming common and is not justified.

In all my contacts with racial groups in Canada, I have found few races as race conscious as the East Indians. The majority seem to have a strong aversion to mixing with the whites. Brotherhood appears to be confined to members of their race.

A Sikh friend informs me that his people as a whole frown on anyone who attempts to fraternize with other races and those who have sought to promote friendlier relations have been severely reprimanded by the leaders of the community.

The attitude of many East Indians to the negro is deplorable. Why then should Mr. Kuldeep imply that his people are above racial prejudices and are deeply hurt by the actions of a small group of people?

I have mentioned this matter not to stir racial discord, but to point out that racial prejudices are common among the peoples of all races of the world, including the East Indians of the city.

Cracker Barrel Days

Ottawa Journal

THERE was a time half a century ago when many men walked to the general store in late afternoon, half an hour before the train was due from the city with the mail and evening papers.

If a man opened the door to a general store he knew he could whiff a pungent, heady and altogether satisfying fragrance compounded of cheese and molasses, tarred rope and fertilizer, over-ripe bananas and common crackers, tobacco, buckets of penny candies, vinegar and rubber boots, heaps of overalls and heavy leather work shoes.

He knew that on the wide front porch of the store there was a line of beat-up, decrepit but comfortable wicker chairs, a few upended nail kegs, and one or more boxes that gee-hawed at precarious angles.

Half a century ago the store porch was the public club of the village in warm weather. Any and all citizens were welcome to sit there and relax while the forum got under way.

Before the modern, speeded-up era of radios and television, black roads and mechanical ice boxes, men not only took time to ponder and discuss national, provincial and local problems; they were also willing to take a position on any question.

Today's fence straddling has become one of the higher arts, and attempting to find a definite statement in a politician's speech is more hopeless than finding the needle in the well-known haystack.

We feel that there is an outstanding opportunity for a nation-wide chain of village and town stores that will feature

EVOLUTION

Minorities of men have already demonstrated—in laboratories, hospitals, churches and schools—a capacity for extending the welfare of men as individuals. Should majorities of men intelligently and sincerely attempt to extend the welfare of man as a species, who can say what dream might not possibly come true? It is not for the historian of life to say. Self-directed evolution, so far as he knows, is an adventure without precedent in a billion years.

John Hodgson Bradley, in "Patterns of Survival: An Anatomy of Life."

The plagiarism that is hardest to avoid is the plagiarism of ourselves.

BY DAVID BROCK

LAST time I promised to tell you a few more things about the novels of Mrs. Ros. But honestly, what we should all do, instead of telling each other about Mrs. Ros, is to tell publishers about her. Publishers are not exactly dull fellows. I mean, no duller than authors, on the whole, or Public Relations experts. But they are sadly out of touch with what is good, and with what people want. If they knew about Mrs. Ros they would gladly buy up the rights and publish her all over the place. Which is a job that needs doing.

Brock

up the rights and publish her all over the place. Which is a job that needs doing.

EVEN if Mrs. Ros wasn't very kind to editors and publishers. She dismisses one of them as the "beggared editor of a penny birdie weekly," whatever that is. It sounds awful, and she means it to sound awful, and with her deadly skill she gets a sort of awfulness into it that makes one helpless with laughter. Why "birdie," of all words? Well, there's no use in asking Mrs. Ros to talk sense. It's the last thing anyone would ask of her. And it's the last thing she would require of her characters, too.

SUCH as the judge in Delina's trial scene, who said that Delina had "a jealous amount of personal beauty and amiable charms chorused with a string of lovable traits." I knew a boy from Boston who talked like that, but he did it on purpose to show me he came from Boston, and he could have stopped any time he wanted to. Mrs. Ros couldn't have either. Incidentally, the boy from Boston told me that his lady-love was "the embodiment of exquisite animation and intellectual activity." As doubtless she was, and may the Lord pity her.

I TOLD you last time about Lord Gifford, in the "Delina" novel. But I don't think I told you about the mother of Lord Gifford, who was a "raging high-bred daughter of distinguished effeminacy." Lord Gifford was no slouch at raging, if it came to that, and he was very high-bred. For example, he didn't recall the face of his old flame, Lady Mattie. He didn't even remember her "long thin walloping legs." But what he did remember vividly, that raging high-bred on her right foot. Mattie, you may remember from Wednesday, was the woman with emerald garters, the gems spelling out the word GARTER.

Delina was much nicer than Mattie. Mattie was a bit sordid. But Delina honestly tried to work for a living, and when she went up to London, she "vaguely conjectured that something would surely turn up for an orphan in such a great seat of business." And speaking as an orphan myself, I can inform you that I often felt the same way in London. And in other cities too. So perhaps Mrs. Ros did draw from life in a few of her pictures, in spite of her gifts of invention and implausibility.

BUT she's at her best when she forgets anything she ever noticed in real life and just lets herself rip. Describing "wildly tossing eyes," for example. Or a sunset that was composed of golden plumes and arms of cloud dying in a death-pail. I am not sure what a death-pail is. But I am familiar with kicking the bucket. We must all kick it one day. But not before we read the complete works (2) of Amanda McKittick Ros, I hope. It would be unfair to ask us to go to our great reward without handing us a couple of minor rewards first.

HAPPY DAYS ARE HERE AGAIN

THE other day one of my sons got back from a boys' camp. I've always thought boys' camps are ever so slightly ridiculous. But I don't wish to impose my prejudice on my young. If they like Youth Leaders and Organized Pep and Disorganized Chores and cookery that is more murder, then that's all right with me. Even a little sunstroke is probably good for the kids. I can't think why. Well, anyhow, this kid came home and said he'd had great fun and wanted to go back to the dear old hell-hole next year. This shook me considerably. I have now lost faith in his judgment. He must be a masochist, who is the sort of maniac who likes suffering for its own sake. I suppose it gives masochists a sense of power to think they can stand pain which a wiser man would carefully avoid in the first place.

AT the exact hour the child reached home, I was reading (not without private laughter and reservations) a book on Child Psychology. And this book told me I am a typical rich American parent, who sends his young off to summer camps to get rid of them, and is doing them untold harm. These camps, it seems, are just like boarding schools, only worse, because the discipline is slacker. The discipline at school is extremely bad for the boys, but the lack of it at camp is worse for them. (Psychologists are hard to please.)

So when the boy told me he expected to go back next year to lovely old Camp Ghastly, I was able to tell him the whole set-up is bad for him psychologically. And not only that, his father is a rich American who is trying to get rid of him.

I NEVER knew, till I started reading books, how much I hated my kids, or how much I loved them in a deleterious manner. It appears that everything I do is wrong. . . . a fact my wife often brings up on her own, though she is not a trained psychiatrist, and therefore has to offer her opinions gratuitously instead of rendering a monthly statement as fixed by the B.C. College of Physicians.

From Our Files

July 24, 1893 — When No. 4 Company, BCBGA broke camp, a dummy sentinel left by one of the braves when he sneaked off to visit his fair one was buried with a full military honors.

July 24, 1913 — The Empress Theatre advertised "the best vaudeville in the world for the prices — 15 and 25 cents." Four acts and Edison talking pictures.

July 24, 1933 — Duncan Chamber of Commerce plea to prevent cutting of the last government-owned timber on the Cowichan "Lake" Road was supported today by the Victoria Chamber directors.

"HELLO, MRS. NESBIT, SURPRISED TO SEE ME?"

Memory Fragments of a Week Off

IT'S TOUGH to sit before a typewriter, knowing you have work to do, and find nothing but picture fragments of a trip up the Fraser and down the Okanagan running through your mind.

Odd visions recur. You think of a short stretch in the lower canyon when you were crawling over a piece of road that hung by its imagination from a cliff-side, jutting out over the river like a bushy eyebrow. You recall your mild surprise as the girl beside you in the car nestled into your shoulder as she had done since courtin' days. And you remember the disillusionment when you found it wasn't romance. It was just her desire to get as far away as possible from the outside edge of the road that fell into nothingness below.

Your mind turns to Eleanor Peden Sowerby in Kamloops, still campaigning for swimming pools for the kids there. You hope she'll succeed, because you've watched youngsters paddling around inside the boom of the Thompson river park. You've felt the water and know how cold it is. You've seen the fast run of the current outside the boom and you've noticed how the water becomes murky when the bottom's stirred. You're a little surprised to find that one of her difficulties arises from the fact that few drownings have occurred there. But you appreciate the feeling of dread she says Kamloops mothers experience when the fire department's flat-noted horn blows. Three blasts and it's a call for the inhalator.

GOOD AS THREE MEN

You remember the story told in Kelowna at the expense of the RCMP. According to the yarn, the people there couldn't get the RCMP to handle traffic or parking problems in town, so they hired a retired police officer for the job. When the man was engaged, the story goes, the RCMP announced plans to reduce the Kelowna detachment by three men.

'Delighted With Decision'

LIONEL CHEVRIER, minister of transport, voiced the Canadian government's reaction to the decision of the Federal Power Commission to grant a license to the power authority of the State of New York in connection with the St. Lawrence Seaway project. He said: "I am delighted with the decision. This is indeed good news for Canada. It is a successful culmination of a long fight for the seaway. I must add that this success could not have been possible without the full co-operation of the present administration in Washington."

With that statement the minister summed up the jubilation that was felt in official circles here when word came through that the Federal Power Commission had granted a license to the power authority of the State of New York. Now it is being freely forecast here that a start on the construction of the $750,000,000 project will be made by the spring and it may be finished by 1960.

There were two steps delaying an actual start on the project by the Canadian government. They were, first the order of the international joint commission approving the application to develop power and secondly, the authorization of a U.S. entity to join with Ontario Hydro in the development of power.

Both these steps are now complete. Subject to whatever litigation may ensue the Canadian government is now in a position to proceed at once to consider the next three steps. They are:

- (1) The appointment of the St. Lawrence Seaway authority.
- (2) The appointment of the St. Lawrence Board of Engineers as envisaged in the order of the International Joint Commission.

IN HOLLYWOOD

Advice From a Star

HOLLYWOOD (UP)—If you have talent, courage and a lot of good old American stamina, come to Hollywood and don't be afraid.

This is the advice film star Roberta Haynes gives to "kids" who come to her for counsel.

Roberta, recently signed by Columbia to a long-term contract, deprecates the admonitions that seem to have become the fashion, to keep away from Hollywood because it supposedly is filled with frustrated boys and girls.

"Whenever I read of someone with a mother complex, warning ambitious would-be actors and actresses to stay clear of film town, I can't help but feel that the advice-giver must be afraid of new competition," says Roberta.

"Hollywood, more than ever before, has opportunities for the newcomer," adds Roberta.

"With television taking its place in filmland, the field of possibilities for those with talent and ambition is unlimited." Besides, the sultry, brown-haired, brown-eyed actress says, "new and unique motion picture techniques call for new talent. With 3-D, wide screens, stereophonic sound and other technical advances in movie-making, Hollywood is more exciting now than during the advent of talking pictures."

Roberta, who now is starring at Columbia with Phil Carey in "The Nebraskan," a 3-D Technicolor epic, believes the worst offenders are those who like to warn the kids from small towns that Hollywood is no place for them.

She considers this absurd. People in small towns are no different from those living in the urban areas. Communication has eliminated the so-called small-town of 50 years ago, the actress believes.

So far as Roberta Haynes is concerned it makes no difference where you come from. If you have talent and character, you have a chance to make good in Hollywood.

Roberta was born in Wichita Falls, Tex., but was raised in Hollywood. Her leading man, Carey, was born and raised in the town of Hackensack, New Jersey.

"Any check," says Roberta, "will show that there are just as many small-towners who have made good in Hollywood as there are stars who came from the large cities."

$100,000 THEFT

CAMDEN, N.J. (AP)—The theft of thousands of tiny crystals used in the manufacture of light weight U.S. army radio transmitters and estimated to be worth $100,000 was disclosed by the RCA Victor Corporation plant. Police reporting they had taken a suspect into custody said $90,000 worth of the crystals had been recovered.

PRAIRIE ROUND-UP

Routine Child Injections Suspended in Polio Fight

WINNIPEG, Man. (BUP)—Suspicion that inoculations reduced the resistance of children to polio prompted medical authorities in Manitoba to suspend all routine child clinic injections and inoculations today.

Dr. M. R. Elliott, deputy minister of health, admitted the suspicion had never been proven, "but we don't want to take any risks."

The province's polio toll continued to mount. Sixteen new cases were reported Thursday, bringing the total so far this year to 230 cases, including five deaths.

Doctors normally employed on inoculations for diseases other than polio were working around the clock administering doses of gamma globulin. Health authorities said extra supplies of the serum were being rushed here.

MINERS WALK OFF JOB

DRUMHELLER, Alta. (BUP)—One hundred and fifty miners of the Commander coal mine four miles from here discussed taking strike action today after walking off their jobs because a fellow-miner was fired for quitting work early.

Officials of the United Mine Workers of America said W. Evans, a haulage crew worker, was dismissed by the company because he stopped work 10 minutes early. The rest of the miners put down their tools Thursday in sympathy.

A spokesman for the mine management said Evans "failed to obey instructions" and therefore was ousted.

A union official said the men would consider strike action, even though this is the first week of full employment for many of them since early this year, due to layoffs followed by vacation periods.

NEW OIL WELLS

CALGARY, Alta. (BUP)—Canadian Pipe Lines Producers Ltd. reported nine successful oil well completions today in its rapidly expanding Virden field in southwest Manitoba.

The company also announced it had staked six new well sites, and wildcat drilling would begin shortly. Of the completed wells, three were in production and the remainder were being serviced or awaiting service.

Meanwhile, a five-company team of Canadian independents reported striking oil at its third venture in the Hamilton Lake area of Alberta.

RAIN DOUSES FIRES

EDMONTON, Alta. (BUP)—Forest fires which have blazed unchecked for days in northern Alberta were under control today after being doused by heavy rain.

More than an inch of rain was dumped on the Slave Lake district, 100 miles north of here, where a crackling wall of flame had advanced to within 20 miles of the town of Spurfild.

Farmer Prosperity Forecast

OTTAWA (BUP).—Agriculture department economists today made a mid-year forecast of prosperity for the farmer, despite lower prices.

The easing of some farm prices, along with higher labor income, meant that consumers had higher purchasing power, the economists said. Therefore, demand for farm products should remain high.

"Agricultural production during the first half of the year has been maintained at high levels," the department's current review of agricultural conditions in Canada said.

"Prospects for the 1953 crop are favorable in spite of an unusually cool and rainy spring."

Tanker Burns At Dock, One Presumed Dead

WILMINGTON, Del. (AP)—The 9,179-ton tanker Pan Georgia burst into flames Thursday night as its crew completed unloading 110,000 gallons of high octane gasoline and fuel oil at a Delaware river dock here.

One crew member is missing and presumed dead. Ship officers said he apparently drowned after leaping overboard in the flurry of excitement which swept the ship.

Of the other crew members, 24 were rescued and brought to Red Cross headquarters in Wilmington. Another eight were admitted to Delaware hospital, where two of them are in critical condition from burns.

Eight others stayed on board to battle the flames.

A member of the ship's mess said he believed the fire started when a spark from a tugboat standing alongside the ship blew into an open hold of the tanker, touching off gasoline fumes.

Quebec Will Remain Liberal Stronghold

Indications Government May Lose Only Six Seats in Coming Election; Interest Lags

By VICTOR MACKIE, Times Ottawa Correspondent
QUEBEC — Quebec Province long a stronghold of Liberalism shows no signs of capitulating to the persistent wooing and promises of Hon. George Drew, Progressive Conservative leader.

Liberals and Independents count on no more than six seats going against the federal government on August 10.

One well-known independently-minded Quebec Liberal, recognized as a political authority, said the Liberals were encountering less opposition in Quebec in this election than during any previous federal campaign in his memory. There were five factors which in his opinion weighed heavily against the PC's making any gains. They were:

(1) The personal popularity of Prime Minister St. Laurent; (2) the inclination on the part of the average Quebec voter to view Mr. Drew with some suspicion because of his political background; (3) the apparent decision of Premier Maurice Duplessis to keep his Union Nationale workers comparatively inactive and the lack of a good PC organization; (4) absence of an effective Progressive Conservative Quebec leader and (5) general economic conditions have never been better in Quebec.

The assessment of the Quebec political picture was confirmed throughout Quebec wherever the PM's party traveled. In the province's metropolitan centres, its towns and tiny hamlets, in eastern and western townships and in the Gaspé, reporters found when they mingled with the crowds that the reaction was the same: The province would stay Liberal, but half a dozen seats would go against the government. There is very little grumbling. The chief complaint is that taxes are too high. There are heavy provincial taxes in addition to federal taxes in Quebec and the tendency (fostered by the Union Nationale supporters) is to lay the blame for all the taxes on Ottawa.

Victoria Daily Times 7
FRIDAY, JULY 24, 1953

TWO STUDENTS TO WIN BURSARIES OF $2,000

The Department of Education, in giving results of senior and junior matriculation examinations today, revealed that it will announce shortly the names of two students who will receive special bursaries worth $2,000 each.

These special awards, made possible through the Chris Spencer Foundation, may go to either junior or senior matriculation students.

These scholarships provide $400 annually during attendance at either Victoria College or UBC up to a maximum period of five years.

Persons named today as scholarship winners are not precluded from taking one of these special prizes.

The department made clear, however, that in the event a student wins both a regular and special scholarship, the former award will go by reversion to the next candidate in order of merit.

Lottery Tickets Seized in Quebec

MONTREAL (BUP)—Provincial police Thursday confiscated 70,000 lottery tickets in suburban Ville Jacques Cartier 24 hours after a finance company had seized the printing press and other machinery.

Sgt. Wilfrid Bessett, chief of the police morality squad, said he believed the sweepstakes was a "phony" and that hundreds of persons had been fleeced since last November.

The tickets were labelled "Universal Sweepstakes Association" and claimed a head office in New York with branches in Pittsburgh, Chicago and Montreal. The tickets sold for 50 cents each.

OVER AND BACK
DECATUR, Ill. (AP)—A pilot who flew his 90-horsepower plane across the Atlantic and back, has reached Decatur en route to his San Mateo, Calif., home. Peter Gluckmann, the flying watchmaker, landed his light plane at Decatur airport after an "uneventful" flight from Cleveland.

"FLOATING" SCHOOL
BURNABY, B.C. (CP)—Burnaby has a new four-room school so light it literally "floats" on a peat bog. The building is made of a series of boxes and has no solid ground for 80 feet underneath.

Picket Restraining Order Hit by Union

VANCOUVER (CP) — The AFL Teamsters' Union started court action here today seeking to remove an injunction restraining the union from picketing a section of the multi-million-dollar Trans-Mountain Company pipeline project near Hope, B.C.

The injunction, obtained by Comstock-Midwestern, contractor on the project, restarted operations on the pipeline which had been halted briefly when 300 employees refused to cross a picket line set up by 12 union truck drivers two weeks ago.

Great Lakes Captains Differ In Testimony on Sinking

TORONTO (BUP). — A commission probed the conflicting testimony of two Great Lakes captains today to find the cause of a crash which sank one freighter in Lake Superior June 20.

Capt. George Ward of the S.S. Burlington said Thursday that the Scotiadic "sheared into our bow." Capt. George Morris said earlier that the Sarniadic ramméd her amidships.

Ward said he had spotted the other ship on radar and was trying to dodge her, but couldn't see through the dense fog until it was too late.

"The Sarniadic was traveling at full speed across our course and appeared to be going in an arc," he said. "She sheared into our bow and her stern swung into us."

He denied that he had purposely lost his ship's log. He said it was lost after he stuffed it into the top of his trousers.

RCAF to Continue Search for Missing Saskatoon Pilot

NORTH BAY, Ont. (CP) — A search for an RCAF pilot who disappeared six days ago on a flight from here to the Lakehead has so far been unsuccessful but air force officials here said the hunt would be continued with all available planes for at least another week.

Twenty aircraft searched a 50-mile strip from White River to Nipigon Thursday for FO. J. L. Suttle of Saskatoon and Calgary and his Mustang. Several islands in Lake Superior also were scouted.

ALCOHOL MADE IT DISAPPEAR

SAN JOSE, Calif. (AP) — Bartender Anthony di Napoli put his $375 diamond ring in a glass of gin, because he thought alcohol would make it sparkle.

Then he got busy. Came a customer who wanted a gin fizz. Di Napoli grabbed the nearest glass. The customer tossed it off, smacked his lips and departed.

The ring, of course, hasn't been seen since.

Ont. Youth Accused Of Killing Brother

UXBRIDGE, Ont. (BUP) — Roger Corbett, 18, who "tried to grow up too quickly," was accused today of killing his older brother with one of the dozen guns he collected.

Police said the youth shot his brother, Ted, 26, once through the chest with a powerful .303 calibre rifle in an argument at the dinner table Thursday night.

Provincial police constable

Clayton Wilton said bad feelings had developed between the brothers and their mother over ownership of the home which the two had worked together to build.

Mrs. Dorothy Corbett, a 52-year-old widow, heard the shot when she was out of the kitchen. She rushed in to see her elder son crawl to his bedroom and collapse in a pool of blood.

"They had always got along well," she sobbed.

Wurtele Supports Pearkes on Road

Esquimalt Reeve Blames Ottawa for Delay
In Improving Admirals Rd. 'Winding Trail'

Reconstruction of Admirals Road is still awaiting assistance of the federal government, according to a statement issued Thursday by Esquimalt Reeve A. C. Wurtele.

He was commenting on charges made Wednesday night by federal Progressive Conservative candidate, Gen. George R. Pearkes, VC, who called the road "a winding trail."

Reeve Wurtele supported Gen. Pearkes' view that the situation was an example of federal neglect of municipalities.

Estimates to rebuild the narrow, pot-holed road were set at $92,000 in 1949, the reeve said.

"We couldn't afford to do it and we can't now," he added.

In February, 1952, the federal government shrugged off requests for assistance (considered justifiable because 75 per cent of the traffic using the road belonged to the department of national defence), because 1952 federal estimates were already passed, the reeve stated.

A year later the reeve went to Ottawa and won a $17,000 increase in the national grant to the municipalities. This raised the federal grant to $22,000 the federal payment to the municipality in lieu of taxes of crown lands in Esquimalt.

Three weeks ago a visiting official of the national defense department told Reeve Wurtele that the increased grant was meant to assist the rebuilding of Esquimalt Road.

"I was astounded," exclaimed Reeve Wurtele, "... this is entirely untrue."

"The council got pretty hot under the collar," he said, and discussed closing the road all together.

"But we couldn't do that. National defense is too important and we must serve the homes in that area," he admitted.

Since then the reeve disclosed that federal assistance has been given that the matter will be further considered.

"The municipality is prepared to share the cost in some way, but wants a definite statement from the government about the project."

"We don't want to get involved in politics but feel nevertheless that this might be a good time to demand something definite," the reeve concluded.

BETWEEN TIMES

By MONTE ROBERTS

Hot tip for wrestling fans who are considering a small wager on the result of tomorrow's bout in Memorial Arena between Lou Thesz and Dave Jones: Lou will NOT lose his "world championship" title.

He will still be "world champion" next Wednesday.

The Vancouver papers have already announced he will defend his title against Whipper Billy Watson on that date.

The Canadian Broadcasting Corporation has set the pattern of things to come in television.

The Canadian Press reported yesterday a CBC-TV show in which doctors demonstrated how to de-skunk a skunk.

The operation was successful, but someone was a little careless with the skunk's gland after it was removed, and a rich, ripe, gamy aroma filled the studio as actors and technicians left in a hurry.

Many of TV's critics will agree that bringing a smell to television is something of a coal-to-Newcastle operation.

A local businessman who is much harassed by the parking problem, proposes an organization to be called the Parking Protective Association.

He would have emblems printed, which would be pasted inside the windshield of all member's cars.

Each member would have a duty toward all other members. On seeing a violation flag flying on a parking meter beside which is parked a PPA car, the member must slip a penny in the slot.

The local businessman reports the membership in PPA is small at the moment (consisting of himself) but he has high hopes.

"We regular offenders must stand together and fight the menace of additive fines," he says.

He is a firm believer in the principles of his plan, but not crazy enough to allow his name to appear in print.

Riddle thought up by a five-year-old and reported to this corner by Mrs. Barbara Green:

"Q. What can the Egyptians do that we can't do?"

"A. Make mummies out of daddies."

A creosoting plant in North Vancouver was destroyed by fire yesterday.

Probably burned with rage because U.S. creosoted lumber was used in the Salt Spring Island ferry wharf.

TOPICS OF THE TIMES

No one was hurt and police typed damage as medium to vehicles in a three-car collision at 10:50 p.m. Thursday in the 700 block of Esquimalt Road.

Police said a car driven by Cyril D. Schmitz, 772 Cloverdale, collided with the rear of a car driven by Albert L. Abrahamson, Beverly Hotel. Police said this pushed the Abrahamson car into another car driven by John A. McNab, 720 Esquimalt.

Five dollar fines were imposed in Saanich police court Thursday afternoon against three persons who dumped rubbish on public property in the municipality.

Fined were Ronald Fuller Johnson, 850 Craigflower; John Turner, 2950 Craigflower, and Norman Kowalyk, 802 Hillside.

Fines totaling $35 were imposed against Patricia Sinclair, 1379 Hillside, when she was convicted for motoring offenses Thursday afternoon in Saanich police court.

She was fined $25 for driving a car while not being the holder of a current year's driver's license and $10 more for not having a muffler on the exhaust of her car.

HALIFAX, N.S. (BUP)—Five ships probed the fog-bound coasts of Nova Scotia and Newfoundland today for two vessels missing with six persons aboard.

The yacht Glenman, owned by Mayor A. J. Mason of Springhill, was five days overdue at Sydney. She was on a trial run and failed to show up on the last lap from St. Pierre to Sydney. Mason, who did not make the test run, was waiting for the vessel at Sydney.

The second vessel was the fishing boat Dynamite, which went out two days ago from Lockport.

Two Drowned in Mainland Mishaps; Third Feared Lost

VANCOUVER (BUP)—Two lower mainland residents died in drowning accidents in the past two days and a third person was feared dead by drowning, police said today.

The victims were: Donald MacFarlane, eight, of Vancouver, who jumped off a stationary float at the Deer Lake beach and was unable to swim.

Steve Pnare, 55, Hatzic, who was swept away by the Fraser River when he and an unidentified companion fell into the water while snaring logs off Nicomen Island.

Exotic Blooms on Display

Any girl would be pleased to receive one of the begonia plants on exhibition today in the Douglas Room of the Hudson's Bay store. In picture above, Avriella Gayda shows off some of the exotic blooms. LOG BUCKING IS OVER THERE!

Sooke All Set To Greet Throng At Big Festival

Bathing beauties are primping, babies are being washed and polished, and loggers are sharpening axes, saws, and caul boots in preparation for the 17th annual All-Sooke Day Saturday at Sooke River flats.

The spectacular loggers' sports will include high climbing, log rolling, birling, bucking with hand and power saws, tug-of-war, chopping, and, oddly enough, a ladies' nail-driving contest.

Officials advise entries in the baby contest to be at the booth by 1:30 p.m. to compete for the Victoria Daily Times trophy. Judge will be Dr. J. G. Patterson.

Open to Rural Babies

The contest, which drew 90 entries last year, is open to rural babies of lower Vancouver Island only.

Tots from Victoria, Esquimalt, and Oak Bay will not be eligible, officials said.

The bathing beauty contest will be open to girls anywhere who are 16 years of age or older.

"If Marilyn Monroe and 'Miss Universe' want to try and win the 'All-Sooke Day Beauty Contest' we'll squeeze them in somehow," an official said.

One ton of fresh salmon and 1,000 pounds of choice beef will be on hand for chefs Andre Robillard and Jim Forrest, who run the popular barbecues.

There also will be clam chowder and other refreshments.

Noon Starting Time

The day's program will get under way at noon with a program of novelty races, including sack races, a pie-eating contest, flat races for children and adults, and that donnybrook beloved by small boys—the boot and shoe race in which barefoot tads race to find their own shoes in a huge heap, put them on, tie them up, and dash for the finish line.

The program will close with an evening dance in Sooke Community Hall.

Thetis Lake for Provincial Park Advocated by Outdoor Group

The Victoria Natural History Society today endorsed a suggestion that the city-owned Thetis Lake and district be turned over to the provincial government for development into a park.

J. A. Cunningham, president, said the society was in favor of seeing the park turned over to the provincial government, as it would ensure that the property would remain in the hands of the people.

The society's stand with regard to the development of Thetis Lake follows a report made by acting water commissioner J. C. Garnett to the city council's public works committee Wednesday. He advocated a definite city council policy "on future development or sale" of Thetis, Beaver and Elk Lake properties.

Mayor Claude Harrison said he had no objection to turning over Thetis Lake to the government for a provincial park, providing that it would commit itself "in writing" as to what it would spend and do in the way of development of Thetis.

Mr. Cunningham felt that the mayor was asking the government to do the impossible. "No government will consent to that," he said.

Thetis Lake would make a beautiful natural park, said Mr. Cunningham. "This type of park is gaining in popularity across Canada."

Mr. Cunningham said if the city did not turn the district over to the government, it should maintain and develop it as a park.

Others members of the society felt that the development of Thetis Lake would make up for the "mess" previous city councils had made of public rights-of-way to public beaches.

Others thought there was a subtle move afoot to take away the Thetis Lake playground and district from the people. They urged various outdoor organizations to keep a careful watch of developments with regard to Thetis Lake.

The destroyer Sioux, which accompanied Ontario to the Spithead Coronation review, is already on her way home and is at Long Beach, Calif., today.

She will dock here at 11 a.m. July 30.

Ontario's departure from England was delayed for five weeks while permanent repairs were made to a tail-shaft damaged in collision with a freighter during her South American cruise last year.

City Finances Said Best in Many Years

Improved Tax Collections Help Write Off Current Bank Debts

City of Victoria, with a "better than ever tax collection" this year, is in the best position it has been with the bank in four years.

City Comptroller Dennis A. Young told a City Council finance committee meeting today: "We're out of debt in so far as current bank loans are concerned."

"With the situation regarding tax collections which are up slightly from last year, there is every reason to feel confident that the city's financial status will continue to improve," he stated.

Mr. Young's comments supported recent statements of Mayor Claude Harrison to the effect that the city was "back on its feet" financially or will be by the end of this year after two years of "austerity" budgets.

The comptroller attributed the city's "excellent" condition at the bank this year to the efficiency of the accounting system, a substantial surplus from last year and efficient budgetary procedures.

"This year we didn't start borrowing until the end of March and then only $800,000," the comptroller said. "It was all paid off by July 4."

In February of 1951 the city borrowed $1,325,000 for current operating expenses, which it did not pay back until September. In February of 1952, it borrowed

$1,100,000, and paid off in September.

The major portion of the city's operating expenses come from tax collections, 3 per cent sales tax and similar large revenues, which are not received until summer and fall.

BORROWING USUAL

As a result, the city must borrow from the bank usually in February to carry on the normal business, until revenues start rolling in. Interest rates have been 4 and 4½ per cent on the loans.

The city collected 38.49 per cent of the current tax levy or $1,203,524 up to June 30 this year compared with 37.89 per cent, 144,509 up to June 30 of last year.

Collection of tax arrears was down from 40.72 per cent last year to 37.17 per cent this year, but the overall collection average is up slightly, Mr. Young said.

Estimated total tax levy is $3,152,272 of which $1,329,607 was collected up to June 30, leaving an uncollected balance of $1,822,664.

The comptroller's summary of revenue and expenditures up to June 30 revealed that the city has spent $3,131,485 of a total expenditure appropriation of $6,629,164. Unexpended balance is $3,497,679.

STANDARD TIME RULED FOR AUG. 10 ELECTION

Ottawa isn't going to recognize B.C.'s daylight saving time after all.

Instructions have been issued that polling time on Aug. 10 will be fixed, as the Elections Act says, with Standard time. That means polling stations here will open at 9 a.m. and close at 7 p.m., Pacific Daylight saving time.

Everywhere else in Canada, the polls will be open from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m.

Earlier, Sydney Child, Victoria returning officer, said that daylight saving time would apply here and voting would be from 8 to 6.

PPCLI Will Conduct City Flag Ceremony

A demonstration platoon of the Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry will take a major part in the retreat ceremony scheduled for 9 p.m. Tuesday on the Parliament Buildings lawn.

The ceremony will be repeated at the same time Thursday.

The platoon is under command of Lieut. H. E. Gauley and is from the First Battalion PPCLI, which returned from Korea last winter.

The regiment is currently carrying out a recruiting drive for three of its battalions. The Second Battalion is slated to go to Germany this fall and the Third Battalion is presently serving in Korea.

Following the flag-lowering ceremony, the platoon will demonstrate precision drill including a series of 18 movements with only one oral command.

PREVIEWS SCHEDULED

A preview of the drill demonstration will be held at Macdonald Park Monday and at Hollywood Park Wednesday.

The park demonstrations will include a "platoon attack" in which blank ammunition, thunderflash, and smoke generators will be fired. A display of airborne equipment will be shown.

Planned demonstrations for Victoria West and Topaz parks have been cancelled in favor of the Sunset ceremonies.

Egg Shampoo Helps Preserve Color, Lustre of Hair

Virginia Mayo, famous for her blonde beauty, takes seriously her responsibility for preserving it. Her hair retains its pale gold color and silky texture partly because she gives herself a weekly egg shampoo. Here she beats up four egg yolks until frothy and four egg whites until creamy (centre). She'll mix these together and use them as suds for her hair which she first wets with lukewarm water. Hot water would cook the eggs. There's enough of the mixture for a second sudsing. She'll rinse with lukewarm water, too. Her good posture and balance are maintained with ballet exercises. One of them she demonstrates above (left). Standing erect with feet together, she extends arms at shoulder level and uses them as levers to twist her entire body around without moving her feet. She gets plenty of open-air exercise riding horses from her own stable (right).

Teenage Girl Can Help Improve Parents' Home

By ELIZABETH B. HURLOCK, PhD

For a teenage girl her home is her background and the setting in which boys and other girls see and judge her. What can a girl do to help her home does not compare favorably with those of her friends? One girl writes:

(Q)—"All of my friends bring their boy friends home to meet their mothers. They have nice homes, but not me. Our house is just awful. It has the worst old-fashioned furniture and everything looks so dull. Do you think a house makes a difference with a boy?"

(A)—Of course a house makes a difference with a boy just as it does with a girl. But boys are not as conscious of style and periods of furniture as girls, nor do they notice details as girls do.

You don't have to have a house that is dull and which looks old-fashioned. A girl who is old enough to go out on dates with boys is old enough to spruce up her home.

Look at the descriptions of furnishings in newspapers and magazines to get some ideas on how to make a room look attractive. Then visit stores and look at materials for slip covers and draperies. This does not have to be expensive. You can get bright, cheerful materials for very little money. Then buy a book of sewing instructions to know how to give the slip covers and draperies a professional touch.

If your parents feel that they cannot afford to buy this material, now is a good time to earn money with a summer job. In several weeks you should be able to earn enough to buy the material necessary to re-cover your living room furniture and make new draperies. In time you can save enough to buy a new rug.

It is very easy to paper and paint a room these days. Ask your father or brothers to help with the work if you buy the paper and paint. Working together as a family you should soon be able to spruce up all the rooms your young friends would see.

Dr. Hurlock is the author of a 64-page booklet, "You and Your Problems." For your copy send 15 cents in coin with a stamped self-addressed envelope to this newspaper.

Blind Victorian Finds Success In Writing, Braille Transcription

By KITTY DIXON

It takes a lot of courage to face the world when one is hindered by a physical defect.

When such a person is able to overcome self-consciousness, adjust to modern living and then become more expert in some phase of art, science or craft than others who have no handicap, that person is to be greatly admired.

Miss Catherine B. Strang is a Victoria woman who has been able to adjust. Although totally blind, she is an accomplished writer of poetry and prose, and her works have been published in many parts of the world.

Miss Strang, who lives with her brother-in-law and sister, Dr. and Mrs. Willard Smith, on Lamson Street, has not always been blind. As a schoolgirl, she was keenly interested in sports and activities which required use of the eyes, but as her sight became gradually dimmer, she was forced to give these hobbies up.

When she realized that she would eventually be totally blind Miss Strang became a member of an international and inter-denominational movement known as "Moral Re-Armament."

"It helped me to forget myself and my handicap," she said. "It taught me unselfishness, honesty, purity and love."

WRITES FIRST POEM

This organization inspired Miss Strang to write. Her first literary achievement was "In a Vision," a poem about dreams, which was published in a Fort William newspaper. A Braille magazine, "Channels of Blessing," published in London, Eng., has printed many of her articles and poems. This magazine is sent to blind readers all over the world.

Canadian Council for the Blind, a newspaper published in London, Ont., has printed three of her poems and an article, "An Adventure in the Dark." Miss Strang has recently completed "Escapism, Or Facing a Challenge," an article which she has sent to both "Channels of Blessing" and Canadian Council for the Blind.

When Miss Strang writes, she uses a typewriter, but she is also able to transcribe into Braille.

She is the only totally blind member of the Victoria Voluntary Transcribers' Guild, which was organized just over a year ago by Miss Vera Myers, who teaches and supervises the work at the CNIB centre on Blanshard Street. Members are building up a lending library for the blind by transcribing story books, school books and technical books into Braille. In the transcribers' guild, which is the first organization of its kind in British Columbia, there are four fully-sighted members, three partially sighted and one blind. Those who cannot see are assisted by someone who reads to them the work which is to be transcribed.

Members blind the finished books according to a method taught them by the School for the Blind in Vancouver. When the books leave the workroom, they are strong, well-sewn, neat-looking volumes in bright blue covers, with name and description clearly printed on them by hand.

The Guild has extended its services beyond Braille books, and also transcribes letters, recipes, knitting directions and greeting cards for the blind.

The Officer in Charge of Cadet Training with the staff and naval cadets of Royal Roads and Reserve Training Establishments, have issued invitations to a naval cadets' graduation ceremony to be held on the parade grounds at Royal Roads on Saturday afternoon, Aug. 8, at 2.30 p.m.

Eastern Canada Visitors

Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Wood of Sedburgh School, Montebello, Que., with their son, Thomas, and a young friend, Patrick Pettigrew, Montreal, are visitors in the city and are guests of Mr. Wood's sister and brother-in-law, Dr. and Mrs. J. D. Hunter, at their home on Linden Avenue.

Visiting in Kelowna

Mrs. Helen Beck, 1217 St. Patrick Street, is visiting her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Beck, and granddaughter, Dianne Elizabeth, in Kelowna. Mrs. Beck will motor back to the coast at the end of the month with Mrs. H. H. Holigum, Vancouver.

Wedding Vows Exchanged In St. Paul's Church

A bridal gown of champagne lace over taffeta and net was worn by Patricia Mae McAllister, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William H. McAllister, 848 Dunsuir Street, for her marriage to William Norman MacKintosh, son of Mrs. and Mr. Dan R. MacKintosh, 9323 90th Street, Edmonton, recently. Her chapel veil was held in place by a ruffled net coronet and she carried a shower bouquet of red roses and carnations.

Rev. Anthony Roberts performed the ceremony in St. Paul's Naval and Garrison Church. The bride was given in marriage by her father. Maid of honor, Miss Adele Paprosky, was the bride's only attendant, wearing a gown of beige lace over taffeta. A small crown of matching flowers was worn in her hair and she carried a bouquet of Talisman roses and yellow carnations. Ronald MacKintosh was best man for his brother, and Jack Bove and John Skillings were ushers.

Reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, 848 Dunsuir Street, where William and Patricia were married.

If you cook too many large, dry, lima beans for the casserole you promised to take to the church supper, here's what you can do: mash and season the beans, add a bit of milk for moisture if there is no cooking liquid left, add chopped onion to taste, form into patties, and fry.

Shower for Evelyn Slater

Mrs. J. Metcalfe and Mrs. J. Lewis were co-hostesses at the Princess Avenue home of the latter with a kitchen shower to honor Miss Evelyn Slater. Gifts were concealed in a red and white decorated basket and presented with a corsage of a gardenia with red carnations. The bride-elect's mother, Mrs. F. Slater, received yellow carnations and mauve sweet peas.

Refreshments were served from a table centred with a red and white good luck cake and red and white serviettes and decorations.

Guests, all members of Individual's softball team and King

At a recent cocktail party we saw a neat way of serving salted almonds. Instead of passing a single dish of the delicious nuts round and round, the hostess brought in a tray of individual nut cups. Thus each one had his own and the party progressed enthusiastically.

Hemophiliac Bleeding Rare Though Often Fatal Disorder

A correspondent who signs herself "Worried Grandmother" writes that her two granddaughters are suffering with hemophilia, and she would like to learn more about it. This is indeed a most interesting subject, though fortunately a rather rare disorder.

Persons subject to this bleeding tendency are remarkably healthy and are different from others only in their liability to easy and excessive bleeding. A trifling injury which would not be of any consequence to a normal person will cause severe bleeding in a true hemophiliac. Under such circumstances the blood may trickle or ooze on and on and prove almost impossible to stop. Bleeding may be internal as well as external.

Most attacks are caused by some injury, even though the injury is nothing more than a slight bump or bruise.

NOTICED EARLY

The tendency to abnormal bleeding is almost always noticed in early childhood and lasts till adult life, becoming gradually less severe and finally disappearing if the victim lives through the early difficulties. Nose bleeds are common; bleeding after the extraction of a tooth is also frequent. Extremely minor operations have sometimes been followed by fatal hemorrhage. Bleeding can develop in the joints or in the lining of the mouth, the stomach, the bowels or elsewhere.

Treatment of the bleeding in a victim of hemophilia is difficult. Transfusion of blood is often necessary and usually is the best thing. Other measures aimed at increasing the speed of blood clotting have been tried with more or less success. The most important thing is to try to prevent bleeding. Every effort should be made to avoid injury and, of course, active games such as football, in which injury is inevitable, are permanently prohibited. Operations should be avoided if possible and anyone who is known to have hemophilia should be sure to inform a physician at once of the known tendency before the medical examination begins.

ROYALTY HEMOPHILIAC

So far as is known, Queen Victoria of England was the first carrier of the hereditary factor or gene responsible for this famous royal bleeding disease. At least 10 of Victoria's male descendants have suffered from hemophilia and seven of her female descendants have been proved to be carriers of the gene. Where and how Queen Victoria acquired the fatal gene is however unknown.

In many cases of hemophilia the hereditary line is not easy to trace. The condition is limited to the male line although it is carried by women to their male offspring. Although in rare cases women bleed almost as easily as true hemophiliac men, the disease is usually considered to be a strictly male disease. Sometimes, perhaps before too long, the fruits of current research may bring new practical information on hemophilia.

Atom Wizards Change Color Of Diamonds

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States Atomic Energy Commission has proved it can change the color of diamonds — but it isn't doing so any more.

After bombarding 200 diamonds with radiation and thereby changing their color, the AEC has stopped, temporarily at least.

A fellow at the AEC said Thursday the commission wants to size things up and determine a policy before tampering with diamonds. He said he knew nothing of a report that the AEC had quit lest it throw the whole diamond industry in a tizzy.

But Dr. George Switzer, a gem expert for the Smithsonian Institution, said:

"The situation already has the jewelry trade in a stew."

Apparently it only has been recently that diamonds have been changed in wholesale lots. The AEC has taken white or yellowish stones and turned them brown, for instance. The cyclotron at the University of California has produced some green ones.

Switzer says if diamonds of a fairly common color could be changed to a rare color the values obviously could be increased, and this is what has upset the jewelry trade.

Young Pittsburgh Lad Unhappy With Mounties

DETROIT (AP) — Young Jimmy Butler is disillusioned with the Mounties. He went to a bit of trouble to get that way.

The 13-year-old Pittsburgh youngster, being held in the juvenile detention home here, has been the object of a Pittsburgh police hunt since Sunday night when he left his part-time job at a filling station and failed to return home.

"I decided all of a sudden that I would go to Canada and talk with some of the Mounties," Jimmy explained. He had often dreamed of being a member of the RCMP.

He said that he bought a bus ticket for Detroit with his pay and arrived here Monday.

After two days of sightseeing Jimmy said he walked across the Ambassador Bridge to Windsor, Ont.

While hunting for the RCMP, the youngster discovered that he had lost his wallet and reported this fact to Ontario provincial police.

He was turned over to U.S. immigration authorities and Detroit police, but not before he said he had learned that life in the RCMP was not for him.

"They don't even wear their red and blue uniforms except in parades and stuff," Jimmy explained.

"I sure am sorry I ran away."

Student Receives Rotary's Prize

A cheque for $150 was presented Ann Coleman by Victoria Rotary Club president John Gough at the club's weekly meeting Thursday.

Miss Coleman topped the first year class at Victoria College this spring. The scholarship was presented to her for having the highest first year English marks.

She told club members of her future plans in a short talk.

Speaker at the meeting was club member Ald. Percy Scurrah, who spoke on his trip to Europe and the Coronation. Ald. Scurrah told members of his tour of England, of a jet liner trip to Rome, and of his impressions of Zurich.

He elaborated on his experiences at the Coronation, where he had a front-row seat in Westminster Abbey.

McBride Explains Defense Spending

Liberal Candidate Says No Time for Change in Federal Administration

"This is no time for a change; this is a time for experience and stability," Duncan MacBride, Liberal candidate in Esquimalt-Saanich, stressed at a campaign meeting Thursday night at Langford.

In the main, Mr. MacBride devoted his time answering criticism of Liberal administration leveled by Progressive Conservatives, and in rebutting statements made by rival candidate Maj. Gen. G. R. Pearkes, V.C.

The Liberal noted the general's allegation that $250,000,000 a year could be saved through cutting waste and extravagance in defense department budgeting.

Mr. MacBride acknowledged defense expenditures were heavy but were necessary so since Canada, in addition to meeting its own immediate service requirements, was equipping other nations through NATO, and was stockpiling in order to be prepared should another full-scale war break out.

WERE CAUGHT

"Look what happened last time," Mr. MacBride said in referring to 1939. "We got the men together soon enough but we hadn't the equipment. We were caught. If an emergency like that comes again, we won't be in the position we were last time. We learned by our mistakes."

Mr. MacBride submitted, too, that Canada's vast defense program was carefully planned by experts within the armed services and that the civilian section of the defense program only acted on their advice.

"So this criticism made by my opponents is not leveled at the minister of defense but is really directed at those military experts who are advising. Remember, these men are the best brains available. Surely we must rely upon them and carry out what they say."

Mr. MacBride was scornful of the Conservatives' charge that Liberals had been in office too long and that dry rot had set in the party.

"The Conservatives sitting in opposition have been in there just as long as the Liberals," he noted. "If there's dry rot on one side, there's dry rot on the other."

The candidate argued, too, that the Liberal cabinet had continually been changing during the party's 18 years in office. He noted only two of the present ministers, Howe and Gardiner, were ministers in Mackenzie King's pre-war cabinet. He pointed out that two new cabinet ministers were named from B.C. only one year ago.

Mr. MacBride stoutly denied the Conservative charge of over-taxation. He again stressed defense demands, and was proud of the Liberal's accomplishment of reducing national debt.

He said the debt reduction meant a saving of $75,000,000 annually in interest payments.

Mr. MacBride saw no reason to fear that present prosperity would end, and suggested that when national security was more certain, the nation could take tremendous strides forward into the social service field by maintaining present tax levels.

"Instead of 50 per cent going to defense, that 50 per cent could flow into social security measures," he said.

FILM SHOWN

The 20 people in attendance at the meeting had something new offered them before speeches began. A ten-minute sound film titled "St. Laurent, a Man and His Country," and a 15-minute series of slides, titled "The Best Years of Your Life," were shown to the gathering.

Narration for the slides was provided by Mrs. T. C. Smith, provincial president of the Liberal Women's Association.

Clifford Kirkham was chairman of the meeting. Speaking in support of Mr. MacBride was Steve Chamut.

Old Parties Shadow Box Says LPP

Campaigns of the four major political parties have been nothing but shadow boxing, Tom Seibert, Labor-Progressive candidate, told a meeting in Kings Road Hall Thursday evening.

"They are afraid to mention the crisis of policy facing our country because we have supinely followed the lead of Washington," he said.

Mr. Seibert claimed that during the Liberal term in office control of Canada's industries has passed into U.S. hands. He alleged the Conservatives have supported "every step in the process of diverting our raw materials from Canadian industry into the hands of the American monopolies."

He said the only real alternative in the campaign was that offered by the Labor-Progressive Party, which stood for the policy of developing Canada for Canadians, and of using Canadian resources to build Canadian industry.

Sacred Money Policy Source Of Inflation, Pearkes Warns

"A terrific inflation" lies ahead for Canada if Social Credit monetary theories are put into practice at this time according to Maj. Gen. G. R. Pearkes, V.C. Conservative candidate for Esquimalt-Saanich.

Speaking at Marigold Thursday night, he said national finances are too finely balanced to bear tampering, added, "The Sacred monetary system would bring about a terrific inflation."

He foresaw election of "some" Socialists in B.C., " . . . but I will be very surprised if there are any from any other parts of Canada," he said.

"A form of dictatorship" will develop at Ottawa unless there is a change of government in Canada, the general said, turning his guns on the Liberals.

There has been a "deterioration in the administration of the government over the last 18 years," he charged.

He said his party is pledged to reduce taxes $500,000,000 annually, if elected, will institute a national health plan and "do something constructive about the housing situation."

"We were 30,000 housing units short last year," he pointed out. " . . . Central Mortgage and Housing has failed."

He maintained the federal housing authority had not provided cheap housing and has not relieved slum conditions found in some Canadian cities.

Liberal government stockpiling of non-essential materials for the armed forces also came under fire by General Pearkes.

He charged further that under the Liberals, Canada "has lost her United Kingdom markets and trade with other countries has dropped right out."

CCF Favors Planned Use Of Resources

For 20 years the CCF has been urging government action to plan and develop the country's resources, but the free enterprise parties have no policies for a peace-time economy, Robert McIntosh, CCF candidate in Esquimalt-Saanich, told a house meeting Thursday evening.

"There is no room for depressed areas in Canada today," he said. "No capitalist would invest his money in a private enterprise which was not planned. Yet when we socialists urge the extension of planning to the nation's business, we are accused of introducing dictatorship."

"Only when we have planned use of resources, capital, and labor, can we obtain the highest standard of living which our country can provide."

Mrs. Laura Jamieson, former CCF MLA, told the meeting the CCF is a democratically controlled movement, and would proceed only as quickly as the people wish. She urged federal government subsidies for low-rental housing plans.

B.C. Scouts Stage Pageant At Jamboree

Thousands Attend Event at Ottawa

SOUTH MARCH, Ont. (CP)—The West was on show Thursday night at the second annual Canadian National Scout Jamboree.

The B.C. group, headed by Lieut.-Col. Keith Dixon of Victoria, led off the night's festivities with a pageant depicting how a boy takes up scouting. Scouts streamed from a huge replica of the book, "Scouting for Boys," by Lord Baden-Powell, the first scout, to put on various displays.

Some 2,500 scouts tonight will witness a demonstration of their best-known accomplishment—starting fire by rubbing sticks together.

The first-class and Queen's scouts, who have been camped at nearby Connaught rifle ranges in the second Canadian scout jamboree, will see demonstrations put on in the arena by groups from Quebec and New Brunswick.

The Quebec scouts will present trek cart drills, and a demonstration of setting up a camp in complete form in a hurry. New Brunswick scouts will feature the construction of a tower with a runway to the ground, from which scouts will be rescued as a demonstration of rescue work.

GODERICH, Ont. (BUP)—It seemed like a good idea at the time. Mayor J. E. Hucks and city police decided to enforce a long-forgotten 1923 parking law to clear traffic jams. Among the cars tagged with parking tickets on the first day were those of Magistrate E. D. Hole, Sheriff N. Hill, County Clerk A. H. #### B.C.'s Top Scholar Stirs Family Pride

Seventeen-year-old Gary Corbett, an Oak Bay High graduate, was given royal treatment by his happy family when the education department today listed him as top scholar among some 5,800 students who wrote Grade 12 examinations in June. Gary came out with an average grade of 94.4 per cent. Shown enjoying his success are sister, Ina, 16, and his mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. W. O. "Ole" Corbett, in living room of their home at 1180 Oliver Street. (Times Photo.)

Victoria's Gary Corbett Tops B.C. in Matric Examinations

Oak Bay High graduate Gary Edward Corbett, who likes mathematics so much he sometimes works out difficult problems "just for the fun of it," has been named British Columbia's top-ranking student in the university entrance examinations held in June.

Results were announced today by the department of education.

Gary, a tall, lean 17-year-old, wins the Governor General's Silver Medal and two scholarships worth a total of $400. He receives a Chris Spencer Foundation award of $225 and a general proficiency scholarship of $175.

Son of Mr. and Mrs. W. O. (Ole) Corbett, 1180 Oliver Street, he was born in Victoria and received his elementary schooling at Monterey School. His father is manager of Island Engravers Ltd.

His average mark in the university entrance examination was 94.4 per cent.

Next highest student in the province was Trudeau Mounce, a student at the up-island mining centre of Cumberland, who

Spanish Boy Accused Of $1.6 Million Theft

LONDON (UP)—British police arrested an 18-year-old Spanish youth today and accused him of engineering single-handedly one of the biggest jewel thefts on record—$1,680,000 of antique sacred gems stolen from the 550-year-old Cathedral of Seville.

The youth, Emilio Garcia Gomez, was arrested on a warrant granted at the request of the Spanish embassy here and was remanded in custody until July 31.

The jewels were stolen from the ancient Cathedral of Seville—second largest church in the world—on the night of March 15. Spanish authorities said the thief apparently hid himself among some of the 32 immense clustered columns which support the vaulted roof. Then, with the last worshipper finished his prayers and departed, the thief smashed a glass panel protecting the gems and fled with them. Scotland Yard and French police co-operated with Spanish authorities in the long and involved process of tracing the suspect.

French police recovered a number of jewels, believed a part of the loot from the Seville Cathedral, from lodgings Gomez had occupied on Paris' Boulevard Porte Royale and from a cleaning shop.

Nail-Studded Baseball Bats Used By Miners

40 Men Injured in Ontario Outbreak

TIMMINS, Ont. (BUP)—One hundred striking miners smashed their way into the Brouhan Reef gold mine with clubs and lead pipes today and kidnapped 10 strikebreakers.

The 10 men were later tossed bleeding and bruised into the road outside. Hundreds of other strikers massed outside kept 30 provincial police from going in to stop the pitched battle.

Union officials said in an official statement later it was a "regrettable incident."

One strikebreaker said shift boss Walter McQuestion was "beaten to a pulp" and taken to South Porcupine Hospital. Forty men were cut and bruised in the battle.

The fight was apparently the answer of striking steelworkers union to the mine company's attempt to resume production after being idled two weeks by a strike. Twenty-five men were taken through the picket lines Thursday.

The battle broke out this morning as the 25 men dressed in miners clothes were being brief in the change house before going underground.

The strikebreakers saw the pickets charging toward their building, armed with baseball bats with nails protruding from them, picks and heavy steel pipes.

SMASH DOOR DOWN

"We barricaded the doors," superintendent Ron Dewar said, "but they didn't hold."

The strikers broke down the door with a baseball bat. Wayne Friman said he and the other kidnapped workers were thrown down a flight of stairs, punched and kicked and hauled into the cars.

The union threatened to resume mass picketing today around the eight properties which have been shut down for almost two weeks.

Two other lower Island students share in the major prizes. Lorraine Elizabeth Brand, 824 Richmond Avenue, a Victoria High School student, wins the Greater Victoria school district prize.

Harcourt Robin Brammell, Wesley Road, of North Saanich High School, wins the prize for Area 13, taking in all of Vancouver Island except Greater Victoria, Salt Spring Island and some lesser islands as well.

'Rammer' Man-Eater

WOODS HOLE, Mass. (AP)—The "rammer" which attacked a dory off Fourchu, N.S., July 10 and caused the death of one of its occupants, has been identified as a white shark man-eater by a fragment of tooth found embedded in the dory, the Woods Hole Oceanographic Institution reported today.

Zaizer Fired

BERLIN (Reuters)—Wilhelm Zaizer, East German security minister, has been relieved of his post. It was officially announced tonight.

Zaizer had been considered by many Western sources as a "Beria man," and his fall is in line with the ouster of other security chiefs in the Soviet empire following the arrest of Lavrenty Beria. There had already been unofficial reports before today that Zaizer was out.

British Freighter Nearly Hit by Shell

TOKYO (AP)—The United States navy said today a "single shell, bomb or mine" exploded today near a 3,000-ton British freighter in the Sea of Japan, but the ship was undamaged.

U.S. warships were manoeuvring in the area, the navy said. The navy said the freighter, the San Eduardo, was heading from Japan to the Red Chinese port of Chinwangtao.

Earlier, the Japanese Coast Guard had reported U.S. ships fired on the freighter and it might have sunk.

TIME FOR A CHANGE?

Fairey Hits Tory Campaign War Cry

Canada has come too far in the last 18 years under successive Liberal governments ever to look backwards.

Addressing an audience of 50 in St. Mary's Hall, Oak Bay, on Thursday night, Dr. Frank T. Fairey, federal Liberal candidate for Victoria, gave this as his reply to opposition declarations that "it's time for a change."

"This has always seemed to me a futile and hackneyed cry," he said, "and when I hear it I ask myself a change to what?"

"Do we want a change back to the dark days of the early '30's of hunger marches and relief camps and riots?"

"Do we want a change back to the high tariff policies with which R. B. Bennett assured us he could blast his way into the world markets?"

Dr. Fairey said Canada's great position in the world today was due partly to good luck, in the geographical and physical assets it possessed, partly to the independent and vigorous character of its people and partly, certainly, to good management.

SMOOTH TRANSITION

He cited the smooth transition from a war to a peace economy and the subsequent steady advance to new peaks of health, happiness and prosperity, as the outstanding achievement of the Liberal administration under the "towering figure of Prime Minister St. Laurent."

"Never before have the people of Canada been so united," the candidate said. "Never before have so many Canadians been working for such high wages. Never before have we enjoyed more prestige at the conference tables of the world."

QUOTES AUTHORITY

As evidence of independent opinion outside Canada, he quoted Geoffrey Crowther, editor of the London "Economist" who said of Canada, "Its economic affairs have been handled with a skill unexampled throughout the world," and the staff of economic experts from the U.S. magazine Fortune who had reported on this country in awe-struck terms.

"By every known yardstick," the candidate said, "within and without the borders of our country, Canada is accounted to be a stunning success—a country to be envied."

Dr. Fairey decried opposition predictions of an economic crash for the near future.

An early end to the fighting in Korea, he said, may bring some cut-back in orders for the armed forces, but military commitments in Europe and at home would still exist. In no case would there be a wide-spread recession.

ON DEFENSE

"If we are able to cut defense spending the reduction will result in lower taxation," Dr. Fairey said. "This, in turn, will mean more purchasing power."

Arrest Imminent In Gaspé Murders

CHURCHILL BACK HOME, MAY RESUME DUTIES

WESTERHAM, Eng. (CP)—Prime Minister Churchill, apparently planning to resume some of the duties of his office, left his country home early today for Chequers, his official residence, 60 miles away. It was the first time he had left Chartwell since he was ordered by his physicians to take a rest nearly a month ago.

The prime minister, wearing a light grey suit, walked a few yards from his home to an automobile with a gait which would almost be described as brisk.

The 78-year-old prime minister stepped into his car without any apparent effort, and then he raised his finger to call his French poodle, which sprang in beside him.

Churchill had a broad smile for a crowd of about 75 persons clustered about. He was carrying his familiar black cigar.

Churchill's decision to move was interpreted as meaning he plans to resume taking up some of the duties of his office.

War May End On Sunday

Only Last-Minute Shift by Reds Or Rhee Can Delay Armistice

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP)—Gen. Mark Clark has received final authority as United Nations commander in Korea to sign a truce agreement with the Communists ending the war.

The authorization was reported to have been given by President Eisenhower recently in order to put Clark in position to act quickly once technical details were cleared away.

Officials expressed confidence today that—barring some last-minute shift by the Reds or some unexpected disruptive move by President Syngman Rhee of South Korea—the truce will be signed sometime this week-end, possibly Sunday night (PDT), which would be Monday in Korea.

At Seoul, a source close to the armistice talks said the signing probably will come Sunday, Korean time.

It was understood here the day and hour of the signing would be set 24 hours in advance and then would be immediately announced so that the world would have 24 hours' notice of the formal conclusion of the agreement that has been two years in negotiation.

The principal threat to the signing arrangements as foreseen here appears to lie in Rhee's continuing bitter opposition.

The signing of the armistice would end the Korean war.

Quebec Solicitor-General Says Bear Hunters Slain

By MARC E. THIVIERGE

QUEBEC CITY (BUP)—Provincial Solicitor-General Antoine Rivard said today three American hunters found mutilated in the Gaspé forests were murdered.

An informant told a reporter that an arrest was expected momentarily.

Rivard told a press conference that the sweat-shirt of one of the hunters had "traces of a bullet entering at the heart level and coming out at the back," Rivard said.

Medico-legal expert Dr. Jean-Marie Roussel of Montreal was immediately ordered to Gaspé, Que., to conduct an autopsy, Rivard said, "and he should reach there by mid-day."

Rivard did not comment on possible motive for the triple murder, but police theorized it was robbery because only a small amount of the $700 carried by the hunters had been found.

The remains of two of the hunters were found spread along the bank of a creek by a provincial police search party Thursday. Most of the skeleton of the third was found last week. The men were Eugene Lindsey, 47; his son Robert, 17, and 20-year-old Fred Clair.

Rivard said police were developing photographs from the camera of one of the hunters and "these photos helped in the identification of the remains of the bodies."

Four pictures were developed from the camera which was found at the bottom of a small creek near the spot where the remains of the elder Lindsey were found.

One of them showed three Gaspé region men who helped the hunters pull their small truck from the spot where it had stalled, Rivard said.

Rivard said a rifle with six bullets in the magazine was found near the remains of the body of the elder Lindsey. It had not been fired, he said.

"But on the shoulder-strap of the rifle we found a bullet hole. The bullet entered diagonally into the shoulder-strap and had gone out the same way. Right then we were sure the mystery was in reality cold-blooded murder."

Rivard refused to divulge what other clues the police had gathered in their intensive search of the bear-infested area because "it might handicap the workings of justice."

The remains of the elder Lindsey were found five-and-a-half miles from the hunters' abandoned truck, he said, and the bodies of the two youths were found about the same distance farther along the trail.

section and leg and arm bones. It was on this same trail, four miles closer to Gaspé, that the police party found the emaciated remains of Eugene Lindsey, who brought his son and companion to this little-known part of the country from Hollisburg, Pa., to stalk the 400-pound black bears that walk its forests.

All three hunters were decapitated but only one skull was found. Bears were believed to have hauled other two heads deeper into the almost impenetrable woods.

IN A GARDEN THAT NEVER WAS

Two Women Walk in An 'Imagination'

LONDON (BUP)—On a mild summer day half a century ago two British women educators took a stroll in Versailles' trianon gardens and later startled the world by claiming they had walked through time to the French revolution.

From any other source the claim promptly would have been ridiculed.

But Miss C. A. E. Moberly and Miss E. F. Jourdain were among the most prominent educators in Britain on that mild August day in 1901, women of unimpeachable reputation and high intelligence.

In letters to each other published as "an adventure," they insisted that by some strange alchemy of time they had been transported back to 1789 in the turbulent days before mobs took Marie Antoinette and her court to the guillotine.

For 50 years experts have argued the case. Most conclude that the educators were so steeped in French history that, aided by the excitement of visiting the scenes, they unconsciously deceived themselves.

But today a prominent British authority on psychic research, G. W. Lambert said new evidence of an equally astonishing nature tended to throw an even more baffling light on the strange story of the two educators.

In their original letters Misses Moberly and Jourdain described a Chinese style kiosk, a barrier and a building which they said they saw in the Trianon Gardens in 1789.

These were not in the gardens in 1901 and as far as available records go no Chinese-style kiosk ever was built there.

In an article in the journal of the social for psychical research, Lambert says a kiosk, barrier and building on a plan for the Trianon Gardens was drawn up by Antoine Richard in 1774 and rejected by Marie Antoinette.

These would have been built approximately when the women said they saw them.

In other words, Misses Moberly and Jourdain appear to have seen a garden which never existed except in the mind of the man who designed it in 1774.

Lambert, who embarked on a new study of the case when he accidentally discovered Antoine Richard's rejected plan in an old book, admits it is impossible at this stage to attempt to explain how two ladies in 1901 could have looked into the imagination of a man who died 117 years earlier.

So one of the most celebrated cases in psychic annals is still a mystery—and more so.

Solution Rests With Experts

Rivard, who will direct the department's investigation into the gruesome triple slaying, said "everything at our disposal will be used to find the culprit or culprits."

"Thanks to the searchers organized by Sgt. Henri Doyon of the provincial police at Gaspé, this crime came to light," Rivard said, "and it now rests with our experts to avenue the victims of this cold-blooded murder."

When the sweat-shirt of one youth was found with the bullet holes, the solicitor-general said, "it was evident that the youth was not killed by bears."

The three Gaspé men who helped the hunters with their truck were not under suspicion, he said. Neither was Wilfrid Coffin, the prospector who helped the group between June 10 and 12.

Seventeen-year-old Gary Corbett, an Oak Bay High graduate, was given royal treatment by his happy family when the education department today listed him as top scholar among some 5,800 students who wrote Grade 12 examinations in June. Gary came out

Victoria's Gary Corbett Tops B.C. in Matric Examinations

Oak Bay High graduate Gary Corbett, who likes mathematics so much he sometimes works out difficult problems "just for the fun of it," has been named British Columbia's top-ranking student in the university entrance examinations held in June.

Results were announced today by the department of education.

Gary, a tall, lean 17-year-old, wins the Governor General's Silver Medal and two scholarships worth a total of $400. He receives a Chris Spencer Foundation award of $225 and a general proficiency scholarship of $175.

Son of Mr. and Mrs. W. O. (Olie) Corbett, 1180 Oliver Street, he was born in Victoria and received his elementary schooling at Monterey School. His father is manager of Island Engravers Ltd.

His average mark in the university entrance examination was 94.4 per cent.

Next highest student in the province was Trudeau Mounce, a student at the up-island mining centre of Cumberland, who averaged 93.5. She receives a bronze medal from the Governor General and two scholarships, also worth $400.

Two other lower island students share in the major prizes. Lorraine Elizabeth Brand, 824 Richmond Avenue, a Victoria High School student, wins the Greater Victoria school district prize.
